DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 7 — Walter Pacenski, John Lesnevich, Bensalem Township; August Loquitano and Anthony Correale, Philadelphia, pleaded guilty before Judge Fred H. Davis yesterday and each were fined $1,000 and costs. In addition, Loquitano was sentenced one month in Bucks County prison.

The sentences were imposed in connection with the alleged gambling place set up in Bensalem township and which State Police raided.

When State Police raided a Bensalem township pig farmer's barn August 19th, they found $2420 on the dice table and $7,750 on 70 men who were there.

With six State policemen, members of the raiding party, presenting evidence, the Commonwealth Wednesday evening closed its side of the case in the largest "floating crap game" trial ever held in criminal court here.

Trooper John C. Friedrich, who was hiding in a pig pen on the farm of the first defendant, Walter Pacenski, Bensalem township, near Hulmeville, testified he saw another

BILLIONS OF STARS

How many stars are there in the night sky. A thousand? A million? A billion? A billion billion?

Since the beginning of his sojourn on earth, man has marveled at the sky on clear nights and wondered just how many stars there might be in the heavens.

One of the interesting products of the National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory Sky Survey now under way in Southern California will be a closer approximation of the number of shining heavenly bodies which populate the visible universe.

The survey, through the magic of the 48-inch "Big Schmidt" telescope, will number the stars and systems of stars out to a distance of 350,000,000 light years. Glimpses of even more distant stellar systems can be seen beyond the limits of the 48-inch Schmidt through the 200 inch Hale telescope also on Palomar Mountain.

Although the survey will not be finished until 1953 or 1954, Dr. Albert G. Wilson, who is in charge of the observational program, already has intimations of the size of the universe as it can be photographed through the Big Schmidt. Our own Milky Way galaxy, of which the earth is a tiny part and no star at all, is composed of between 200,000,000,000 and 300,000,000,000 stars. The sun is one of those stars, medium size.

It's easy to remember how many stars are in the Milky Way," Wilson says with a broad smile. "There are just about as many as there are dollars in the national debt."

Out beyond the Milky Way are many millions of star systems called extra-galactic nebulae. They move through the heavens to the observational limits of the greatest telescopes. Beyond that limit they could go on forever, astronomers say.

There may be well over a billion such systems, some of them as big or bigger than the Milky Way system with its many billions of suns. The final figure on how many, if it could be computed, would be so large as to be meaningless.

One way to visualize the number, however, is to think of every grain of sand on every beach in the world. All the grains together will not equal the number of suns in the heavens!

Most of these stars and star systems, providing they were shining and within range as recently as 350,000,000 years ago, will be captured as points of light or nebulosities on the 2,000 photographic plates of the Sky Survey. Astronomers will be kept busy deciphering the plates for a hundred years.

With so many alumni wives already howling, it looks like a hard winter for the football coaches.

Something has happened to the boasted age of chivalry. A New England woman who killed her husband has been put in prison.

Tax Scandal Story Still Being Written

He was later involved with the then Democratic National Chairman, William Boyle, in the efforts of the Lithofold Corp. of St. Louis to secure an RFC loan.

Six Internal Revenue Collectors, political appointees of the Roosevelt Administration, have left their jobs—two were fired, two were suspended and two quit under fire.

A large number of lesser officials and agents have been fired or suspended or have resigned. At least five indictments have been handed down and more may be in the offing.

And a House subcommittee is still busy probing into every nook and corner of the tax collecting system looking for new irregularities and for evidence of an "organized plot" to corrupt the whole agency.

A leading figure in the tax scandal is Denis Delaney, a one-time pick-and-shovel WPA worker who became Tax Collector in Boston. Delaney was indicted on charges of accepting $12,500 to influence his official decisions.

In San Francisco, meanwhile, two former revenue agents—Ernest Schino and Patrick Mooney—were indicted on charges of using an inoperative Nevada copper mining company as a means of collecting from tax delinquents who wanted to avoid prosecution.

As the House investigators—with an occasional assist from Sen. Williams—dug deeper, the casualty list in the Bureau grew longer.

A number of agents were dropped when they refused to reveal their worth. Others tried to explain their incomes by saying they had been extremely lucky at the race tracks. There was every indication that some of those who left the Bureau might have to face criminal charges.

The tax scandal chapter of the corruption story is by no means over. The House investigation is continuing and, as Rep. King (D) Calif., who heads the subcommittee, said recently:

"In many ways our work has just begun."

Tomorrow: Activities in the wings.

THE MOST PERFECTLY PLANNED COMMUNITY IN AMERICA!

Levittown

PENNSYLVANIA

IN FAMOUS, picturesque Bucks County a new Levittown is rising. All the resources, all the experience, all the talent of the world's greatest community builders—Levitt and Sons, Inc.—have been marshaled to make it the finest town in the United States!

► Everything that made Levittown, Long Island, internationally famous will be here—but much better. Swimming pools, athletic fields, baseball diamonds (for the Big Boys and Little Leaguers), playgrounds, the town community hall—have all been conveniently located.

► Road layouts have been planned so that no child crosses a main road to reach school. Wide, park boulevards crisscross the town to make every house easy to reach. Even street names have been keyed to make sense. For instance, Sweetbriar Lane (and any road beginning with "S") is in the Stonybrook section.

► Small neighborhood shopping centers will be located within walking distance of every home. A vast, almost-mile-long mammoth shopping center will be erected on Bristol Pike (Route 13). Large church sites will be dedicated without charge to all denominations. In consultation with the proper authorities ground has been set aside for elementary, junior high, and high schools.

► A new station—Levittown—will be built on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Fast commuting trains will make the run to Broad Street, Philadelphia, in little more than half an hour.

► In this advertisement you see pictures of the homes to be built, but you can see the houses themselves at the Exhibit Center on Route 13. Go into the Display Building and see everything—every nail, every bolt, ever last item of equipment—that goes into their construction.

► And remember that every house, every road, every facility has been planned and planned and planned. This is NOT "defense housing"! True, a great many of Levittown's residents may earn their livings in defense industries, but Levittown is permanent and, God willing, will grow and live on long after the word "defense" is forgotten!

HOW TO REACH LEVITTOWN

By car from Philadelphia: Drive out Roosevelt Boulevard continuing on Route 1 for about a mile. Turn right at Levittown sign to Route 13. Turn left on Route 13 to the Exhibit Center about 4 miles past Bristol.

By car from Trenton: Cross the bridge into Pennsylvania, turn left to Route 13 (Bristol Pike). Continue on Route 13 four miles past Morrisville.

By car from Camden: Drive out Route 130 (Burlington Pike) to Burlington. Turn left and cross bridge to Bristol. Turn right on Route 13 four miles to Exhibit Center.

or defendant, August Loquitano, near the barn door.

The second defendant, John Lesnevich, by Harry and Knights roads, Bensalem township, arrived in a pick-up truck with gambling paraphernalia on it. Trooper Friedrich testified.

Trooper Andrew J. Kutney tested a third defendant, Anthony Corriveau, a Philadelphian, explained he got there about 12:30 and was on the way out when the raid was staged at two o'clock on the Pacenski place. A fourth defendant, August Loquitano, was grabbed running away.

Crawling through cornfields, orchards and creeping along pig pens, the State Police testified how they watched the activities on the defendant's farm prior to springing a raid at two o'clock.

Trooper Kutney testified he saw seven men standing around a gambling table in a room in the barn. There were 20 cars, three from New Jersey, parked near the barn. There were dice and more than $2,000 on the large dice table.

Pacenski, Bensalem township pig farmer, Trooper Kutney said, admitted he and his wife owned the farm. He admitted having rented the barn, or a room in it, to a colored man, whose name he didn't know, for $25 a night for tomato pickers.

State Policeman Keith R. Dane, testifying $7,750 was collected from the 70 persons in the room in the barn. Pacenski, Pvt. Dane testified, rented the barn to a colored man for $25 to provide a sleeping place for tomato pickers. The colored man gave him an extra $25. Pacenski said later.

Trooper Friedrich, because of a brilliant moonlight night, recognized John Lesnevich, Bensalem farmer, drive up in a pick-up truck to the Pacenski farm and get out. He also recognized August Loquitano standing near the barn door.

Later Lesnevich was overtaken driving away from his home by the State Police, who were in waiting there, and explained he took "The Swallow" to Philadelphia.

Pvt. Thomas F. Marks testified he also identified John Lesnevich. Pvt. Howard C. Shook caught August Loquitano running away from the barn when the State Policemen shouted "raids."

Other witnesses for the Commonwealth were Trooper James J. Shovelin, Chief County Detective Fred H. Kohler and Deputy Sheriff Mellie R. Moyers, who gave corroborative evidence.

The license number of each car and name of each man there were taken by State Police. The $2,420 on the table was confiscated but the $7,650 was returned to the men.

area, Mr. Lewis explained that of the 1600 coming from other points past experience shows that they would be average citizens and mostly Christian people; people who would expect to find church facilities here." Mr. Lewis was unable to give any definite information on the 300 who would be employed from this section of Bucks County and nearby areas.

Mr. Wood, of the Bucks Co. Planning Commission, Doylestown, stated that that group had been organized only since October, and had not been able to plan much as yet.

We are now making regulations for the foundation of our organization" he added.

Oscar Norbeck, of the Bristol Y.M.C.A., expressed pleasure that the people are organizing in such fashion and told of the expanding work of the Y.M.C.A.

Speaking for the Strategy Board of Philadelphia Council of Churches, Dr. William Weffer, informed of talks held with John Galbreath, of Danvers Corp., builders of Fairless Hills and two representatives of the U. S. Steel Co. The trio had informed that sites for churches are arranged for in planning of that defense community.

In regard to the possibility of securing services of a temporary chaplain, it was pointed out that such chaplain could direct the people to various churches already established in the area; while for those individuals not wishing to travel from the community in which they would reside, arrangements could be made for community services of worship in the housing areas.

Three separate sites are being assigned for churches in Fairless Hills, it was announced, but no provisions are made by the firm to erect churches there. However, privilege would be granted for conducting Sunday School sessions in some of the buildings, the project being similar to that whereby structures are provided for holding of public school sessions.

The group was told that at present 250 people reside in Fairless Hills, with 1500 expected within a few months.

Dr. Marks, a Baptist clergyman, issued a word of warning, when he urged that the group proceed slowly. He told how the Baptist group had gone into Oxford Circle area of Philadelphia, placing a huge sum of money in building and equipment, only to find later that conditions did not warrant a Baptist church of the size erected.

The Rev. Wayne Dockhorn, of Bensalem Methodist Church, told of being connected at one time with work in Lacey Park housing area when that project first started. He said that the people desired spiritual guidance and that no provision had been made in advance for such.

Arrangements were made for pastors of protestant churches in the area involved to receive copies of a resume of last evening's session. These may be secured by any clergymen interested, it is stated.

The landscape job, one of the typical extras in any Levitt-built community, is included in the cost of the house. Duplicating it, according to a landscape gardener in the area, would cost a private home owner between $400-$500.

Today's Quiet Moment

By the Rev. Chas. H. Carter, Jr.
Pastor
Bethel A. M. E. Church

O Thou Eternal God! We come to Thee today, seeking the answer to the question . . . If a man die shall he live again? We know that sin has brought upon us the condemnation of death, for the wages of sin is death.

We thank Thee that Thou dost hold in store for us a gift . . . The gift of God is eternal life, through our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, for He said "Verily, verily, I say unto you, If a man keep my sayings, he shall not see death. We thank Thee for the encouraging words of Paul "Then shall the dust return to the earth as it was; and the spirit return home unto the God who gave it." "And so shall we ever be with the Lord." Amen.

Tells of Rotary Work Promoting Good Will

Rotary Clubs in 83 countries throughout the world are united in an endeavor to promote international understanding, good will and peace. That was the message of Henry V. Scheirer, Allentown attorney, governor of district No. 265 of Rotary International, in addressing the Rotary Club of Bristol yesterday, following a conference with local Rotary officers, directors and committee chairmen.

In addition to the activities of Rotary's 7,300 clubs in their own communities to promote this objective, Mr. Scheirer explained, over a six-year period Rotary International is spending $1,500,000, principally to create better understanding among the peoples of different nations.

One of the ways in which this money is being spent is in Rotary Foundation Fellowships, which enable outstanding graduate students to study for one year, in countries other than their own, as ambassadors of good will. Since this program was established in 1947, 284 Fellowships have been awarded to students in 42 countries, with grants totaling more than $700,000.

"Devoted to service, Rotary provides a common ground for 350,000 business and professional executives throughout the world, regardless of nationality or political or religious belief," the Rotary District Governor emphasized.

Mr. Scheirer also spoke with pride of various activities of clubs of the district which made each of the communities affected a better community. He cited the many projects for the benefit of youth, crippled children, spastics, and emphasized the benefits of the district's youth development project, "Tomorrow's Leaders," the principal activity of which is the conducting of annual encampments at Camp Delmont, near Sunnyside, to which clubs, at their expense, send young men of leadership qualities for a week's training. This year, 57 young men attended the camp. Mr. Scheirer called this project "an investment in the future."

President Harold V. Crooker was in the chair.

"Amish Bill" Rapped By A PTA Speaker

vanced to fill the vice-presidential office which was vacated by Mrs. Paella.

Mrs. Samuel Gratz introduced Miss Morrow, who captivated the meeting for almost an hour with her interesting discussion of the protective labor laws in Penna. Miss Morrow discussed the equal pay law, providing that women be paid as much as men for the same job; and she briefly mentioned the state wage and hour law, which is a stricter measure than the federal law.

Miss Morrow turned the remaining portion of her talk to the child labor law, and to denunciation of the "Amish Bill". She paid particular homage to "former Senator, the Hon. Joseph R. Grundy, who does not approve of the child labor law, and who has always offered me and my committee support in its enforcement." "This is a far better attitude," she stated, "than that of many people who pay only lip-service to the labor laws."

Miss Morrow read the first state child labor law that stated "No minor under 12 may work more than 12 hours a day."

The present provisions of the child labor law and of the "Amish Bill" were discussed, with a question period following. During this period it was decided to send the telegram to Gov. Fine.

Mrs. Gratz announced that a federal narcotics agent and a "movie" have been arranged for later programs in the year. Refreshments were served.

The wooden top of the station wagon was ripped apart, and doors and frame scattered on the street.

DICK HARMAN IS IN MOST VALUABLE PLAYER ROSTER

In clippings from the Army Magazine "Stars and Stripes", Benjamin E. Harman, Spruce street, has earned that his son, "Dick", has an undisputed title to the European TD pass-throwing contest.

Dick, who has played quarterback with the Heidelberg Lions, tossed a fifteen touchdown pass in a game against the 2nd Army Division Redlegs last week at Manheim.

The Lions, once doormats for the Western Conference, came into their own by defeating the Redlegs in a special play-off to decide the WC championship. This win assured the Lions a berth in the European championship games against the Div. Art. Cassions.

Harman, who played excellent with teams here in Bristol, is considered for most valuable playlist. Dated Mannheim, Germany, the clippings read in part: "The Lions ended up their first score on a yard pass play from quarterback Dick Harman to right end Bill Tinsley. With the ball on the 38, Harman faded back and connected with Tinsley, who took the throw behind two defenders and rambled 33 yards for paydirt. Harman again did the damage, passing to Keithley for the final nine yards. This pass brought his total in touchdown passes to fifteen . . . one better than RCT's Bumpo Elliot."

Dick expects to be back in the states early in the Spring.

16 SERVICEMEN ARE LICENSE APPLICANTS

Among Those Seeking To Wed During November
At The Court House

WAIVERS FOR SOME

DOYLESTOWN, Dec. 7 — During November, 16 service men were among the applicants for marriage licenses appearing in the Court House here. Several of the young men were given waivers, so they didn't have to wait three days, as some only had a few days leave prior to overseas departure.

Totals for servicemen's applications began to look like those received during the early part of World War II. Soldiers came from as far away as Maine and Missouri, while there were sailors from Wisconsin and West Virginia. In the majority of cases they were marrying Bucks county brides.

November reached one of the lowest records in history, only having been lower four times in the past 17 years. Ninety-nine licenses were applied for during the past month as compared with 109 last year. Looking back over the years a reporter discovered that the totals for past Novembers were as follows: 1948, 100; 1947, 98; 1946, 151; 1945, 97; 1944, 67; 1943, 72; 1942, 116; 1939, 228; 1938, 169; 1937, 128; 1936, 105; 1935, 120; and 1934, 181.

Compiling of the servicemen's applications revealed that there were nine soldiers, five sailors, a marine, and a merchant marine from Norway. They came from Philadelphia, Holicong, Doylestown, Pineville, Lancaster, Furlong, Perkasie, Allentown, Willow Grove, New Jersey, West Virginia, Missouri, Maine, Wisconsin and Norway.

There was a decided drop in the number of minors applying. Only five of the 99 prospective bridegrooms were under age. Two of them were 20; two of them were 18; and one was 17. There were 26 minor girls. Divided into age groups, they were: Three, 16; one, 17; six, 18; seven, 19; and nine, 20.

The youngest couple, both of whom were 18, came from Morrisville. There were two Doylestown weddings in which both couples were 20, and the bridegrooms in both cases were soldiers. The youngest bridegroom was a 17-year-old Bristol boy, who married a girl, 20. Another fellow, 18, wed a 20-year-old bride. There were three brides 16, who chose mates older than themselves.

Taking honors for the oldest applicant was a New Jersey man, who was born in 1886, and married a bride from the same state who was 26 years younger. They also had the distinction of having the greatest age difference. Runners up for the latter honor was a Philadelphia couple with the bride being 13 years younger than her husband.

The oldest couple, who came from Philadelphia, was a man, 62, who was a widower, and a woman, 57, who was twice widowed. Runners up in this group was a couple, also from Philadelphia. Both were born in 1896.

Death was the reason for the dissolving of the marriages previously of nine men and ten women. Divorce was the cause of the termination of ten men's and 13 women's previous marriages. Seven of the 13 divorced women were under 30 years of age. Four were in their thirties; and two were past 40. Two men, who were divorced, were still in their twenties; six had passed 30; and one each were in the 40 and 50 age groups.

Among the interesting and unusual facts about the 198 applicants was the fact that one couple, both of whom reside in Bristol, were born in Puerto Rico. Another couple, a Holicong soldier and his British war bride, applied. One bridegroom-to-be walked directly from the divorce court to the Orphans' Court to make another try. With the exception of the Norwegian merchant marine, the applicant who came the farthest was a Nevada man, who married a New Jersey woman. Both were divorced. Trying for the third time was a twice divorced man, who was 39, and who married a 27-year-old divorcee.

Philadelphia again led all other towns by sending 37 applicants. Thirteen came from New Jersey, two from New York and two from Connecticut.

WASHINGTON REPORT

By FULTON LEWIS, JR.
(Copyright, 1951
King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 7. — Dave S. Cohn, a Spokane, Washington, businessman, resigned on December 1, as Director of the District Office of Price Stabilization. In quitting, Cohn blasted the police state activity of Edward Morgan, National Enforcement Director of OPS.

Cohn's resignation was submitted on the heels of a frantic OPS' effort to pin criminal charges on another respectable businessman in Spokane, Albert K. Arend. Arend, a meat market operator, didn't run when Morgan's troopers jumped him. Instead, he took his case to Federal Court and won a dismissal of the charge. Following this, Arend quit the meat business after 30 years. He said he couldn't take the kind of persecution Morgan's office was dishing out.

District OPS Directors are supposed to have the authority to run their own offices, but here is Cohn's statement about that myth:

"At the time I accepted the appointment as District Director I made certain commitments in public talks as to the manner in which this office would be conducted. I find that continued limitations of my authority have precluded my carrying out of these commitments.

"It has been the policy of the National Enforcement Division—Morgan's office—to operate all district enforcement offices directly out of Washington. This has made extremely difficult the position of the District Director who is supposedly responsible for the entire operation of the District Office, whereas he has practically no authority.

When Cohn took the job he promised Spokane residents that he would not "push anybody around."

But he didn't know about Morgan at the time, and what he learned was too rough to take. Rougher, apparently, than the World War Two OPA operations. Cohn was Director of the Spokane region for OPA, and even at its worst OPA apparently was not as bad as what Morgan is dishing out today.

Early Bear Season Success

An accurate count of the kill in the 1951 bear season will not be available until all bear kill tags have been received and tabulated at Harrisburg. The following information is taken from reports made by Game Commission Field Division Supervisors on the results of the first two days of the one-week season which ended November 24.

Except in the northwestern counties where 30% fewer hunters came out, bear hunters appeared as numerous as last year, and the kill compared favorably with that of 1950. The much-desired tracking snow blanketed the bear territory—sometimes too much of it. Six inches of snow and 3,000 bear hunters were reported in the Emporia area at the beginning of the season. In the Kane and Tioga sections the snow depth was said to be 18 inches. Other bear counties had about 3 inches of "the beautiful".

The bear hunters were described as "generally well-behaved". There was, however, the usual discouraging report of "too many cubs killed". In most cases, the hunters who shot the youngsters let them lie where they fell. There was an outstanding example in Cameron County, where a mother bear and her three babies were slain.

The unofficial count of legal bears killed in the first two days of the season was 243. Cubs killed in the same period totaled 27. The Northwest Division led the state with 146 legal bears and 22 illegals; the Northeast Division came second with 51 and 3; and the Southcentral Division ran a close third with 44 and 2. The Southwest and Southeast Divisions there were no bears taken the first two days of bear season.

The largest bear reported slain this season was one taken in Clearfield County. It weighed 450 pounds hog-dressed.

In the early season tabulation, there were two human casualties reported, one a fatal and one a non-fatal. Both occurred in the north-central area.

Reminders for Antlerless Deer Hunters

The two-day antlerless deer season of December 14-15, immediately following the 1951 "buck" season, has aroused much interest and speculation.

Seasons on antlerless deer are declared by the Game Commission as the reasonable way to reduce the deer herd to the point that the remaining animals can eventually be supported by the limited winter forage available over the state.

The opening hour, both days of the antlerless season, is 7 a. m.; both hunting days end at 5 p. m.

This year, "does" may be hunted in any county of the Commonwealth, except Philadelphia County.

If a hunter killed a buck deer in the 1951 archery season or the regular antlered season he may not kill a "hornless" deer in antlerless season, inasmuch as the Game Law permits the killing of only one big game animal of the same species in any one year.

On December 14 and 15 antlerless deer only may be lawfully killed in Pennsylvania. Every antlerless deer hunter must own and wear his antlerless deer tag as well as his 1951 hunting license tag, and he is allowed to hunt only in the county for which the antlerless license was issued.

There is no camp limit on antlerless deer taken during the 1951 season, but no person may take more than one deer in 1951, whether he hunts as an individual or a camp member.

The big game roster is required when 5 or more persons hunt together or in any way cooperate in hunting deer.

All automatic or semi-automatic (auto-loading) firearms of any character are prohibited in the taking of deer in Pennsylvania.

Any individual may possess or transport unmarked, cut up parts of a deer carcass, but should a law enforcement officer require it, he must furnish the name and address of the person who killed the deer, along with any other information required to properly establish legal possession.

Successful hunters are urged not to waste their venison. A deer should be dressed out as soon after killing as possible. In warm weather extra precautions against spoilage should be taken, even to skinning, quartering and salting the meat. The carcass should be spread open with a stick while it hangs in camp or is transported home. If carried in the back of the car the trunk lid should be propped open to allow a circulation of air about the carcass.

Unless a successful hunter wishes to make himself a target for some quick-trigger gunner, he should not attempt to carry his kill out of the woods on his shoulders.

The Department of Revenue at Harrisburg, reported on November 26 that the county treasurers of the following counties still had antlerless deer licenses available: Allegheny, Cameron, Centre, Clinton, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Elk, Huntingdon, Lycoming, Montgomery, Pike, Potter, Sullivan, Tioga, and York.

The Department of Revenue at the same time announced that it still had antlerless deer licenses at Harrisburg for the following counties: Adams, Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Bedford, Blair, Bradford, Butler, Cambria, Cameron, Centre, Clarion, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Erie, Fayette, Fulton, Greene,

The opening hour, both days of the antlerless season, is 7 a. m.; both hunting days end at 5 p. m.

This year, "does" may be hunted in any county of the Commonwealth, except Philadelphia County.

If a hunter killed a buck deer in the 1951 archery season or the regular antlered season he may not kill a "hornless" deer in antlerless season, inasmuch as the Game Law permits the killing of only one big game animal of the same species in any one year.
